The Christmas Fund Special Offering

Our joy at Christmas is a response to God's promise of new life through the birth of Jesus. It is a joy we are called to share widely, through our witness and gifts, both to loved ones and to distant neighbors. "It wasn't easy picking up the telephone to share with you my present situation. In fact, it was one of the most humiliating experiences of my life although it reminded me that grace still happens. Sometimes we as clergy persons lose sight of God's grace when the negative stuff comes into our lives." "...thanks so much for sharing your time and ministry with me. Your most gracious gift is appreciated more than words can say as I continue to live in the 'meantime.'" These eloquent words are from a pastor who is the recipient of the caring and concern of those who contribute to the Christmas Fund Offering.

You have the opportunity to be a part of this ministry that cares for the active and retired clergy and lay employees of the United Church of Christ through your participation in this year's Christmas Fund Offering.

Your gift to the Christmas Fund will not only assist pastors like the one above, but also provide for the Supplementation of Small Annuities, Supplementation of Health Premiums, Emergency Grants, and Christmas "Thank You" Gift Checks next December to lower-income retirees.

Your gifts are needed more than ever to help the growing number of retirees whose low-income annuities make it difficult to meet increasing living costs. This is your opportunity to participate in God's promise of renewal by enabling this ministry of compassion and care.

We celebrate with Congregational UCC, Mellen, as they move into their newly constructed church building.

The congregation had considered renovating and updating their old church building but found it to be too costly and would not have given them the kind of space they needed, so they decided to tear down their old building and put up a new church.

We send our blessings and hopes for new life in their church and community..

And in Eau Claire

On Sunday, Oct. 29, Plymouth United Church of Christ, Eau Claire broke ground for their new building. It was just over a year ago that their former building was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. For the past year they have found a home in another church's building and have continued their faith life together. With great joy we celebrate with Plymouth UCC as they continue their journey together.

Northern WI Churches and the Economy

Rev. Rob MacDougall, NWA ACM

I have had a spectacular fall traveling to our Northwest Association, UCC churches. The colors have been beautiful and the temperatures unseasonably warm.

During my visits to clergy and local church members I try to ask questions about the life of their congregations and also about what is going on in their local communities and areas. There are a couple themes that get described over and over again. One theme is about the aging population in churches and in the communities where the churches are found. Another theme has to do with the economics of our northern communities and how small businesses are closing on a regular basis. People in the north say that everyone has to have more than one job to make it financially in the northern third to half of the state.

Marc Eisen recently wrote an article analyzing the economics and population changes in northern WI based on information collected by the Economic Innovation Group. From 2007-2015 of forty counties in the northern half of our state nine counties showed job creation, five stayed about the same and twenty two counties lost significant numbers of jobs. It is no surprise that many of these northern counties have unemployment rates above six percent and only three counties have unemployment below three point six percent. It is also true that many of these northern counties have a zero to more than six percent population loss between 2007-2015. It is also true that these northern counties have greater portions of their population over the age of sixty five than the rest of the state and it is projected by 2040 that more than thirty percent of our northern counties will be populated by people over the age of sixty five. Kenan Fikri stated that "Wisconsin is suffering from a slow and steady rural depopulation."

The things that many people in our churches are telling me about their northern WI life are echoed in the statistics that have been gathered. The aging and shrinking of our northern churches reflects what is generally happening throughout our northern communities.

One of the difficulties of life in our northern counties came up again in a conversation with Rev. Mary Snell Willis who serves our UCC churches in Land O Lakes and Phelps. We talked about the difficulty of poor phone reception and broadband width for internet service. We talked about young people who move out of northern counties, not because they don't appreciate the beauty of the area and the gifts of living in rural and small towns, but because they can't make a living there and they feel cut off from the rest of the world. I know that expanding broadband service has come up in the WI legislature over recent years. Some legislators have said that expanding broadband throughout the state is one of the most essential tools of economic development we could pursue.

The State of WI has established the WI Broadband Office to help facilitate the expansion of broadband service. This office has mapped out internet service throughout the state and it is no surprise that the counties with greatest job and population losses are mostly counties that are unserved by fixed internet service or they have low levels of service.

The connection between the wellbeing of our churches is significantly linked to the wellbeing of our communities. When our communities are strengthened, when people have jobs and the age of our communities are multi-generational there is greater wellbeing for all. Perhaps one effort our church members around WI could engage in, is advocacy for the expansion of internet access and strength. We are God's people and have been given all that we need to live the full lives God has promised, but we are people who live in the world and we need to be smart and work together for the good of all. Contact the WI Broadband Office and find out what can be done to improve this necessary resource for our communities.

Blessings - Rob

Dear colleagues and brothers and sisters in Christ of the UCC Churches of the Northwest Association:

Rev. Burt Williams will be installed as pastor of Roberts Congregational United Church of Christ on Sunday, November 19, 2017 at 3:30pm. The Church is located at 1001 Birch Drive, Roberts, Wisconsin, 54023. Clergy are invited to robe and to wear red stoles; please arrive a half hour earlier if you plan to join the procession.

There will be a celebration dinner after the installation service. If you plan to attend the dinner, please RSVP by November 13 to the church phone (715-749-3225) or email (ruccsecretary@gmail.com).

We all need to be reminded that we are not in ministry by ourselves or in isolation. We are in service to Christ for the whole church. That includes, of course, that "great cloud of witnesses," seen and unseen. On November 19 we are invited to be among that cloud in physical, tangible presence. I do hope that you will share in the joy of the people of Roberts Congregational United Church of Christ as Rev. Burt Williams is installed there.

Reformation Sunday in Neillville

At worship today, Dr. Martin Luther (aka as Pastor Jim Mohr) paid a visit and shared with us his perspective on the Reformation. After worship we celebrated Pastor Jim's 45th Anniversary of his ordination. We are grateful at UCC Jim and Karen remain active members of our congregation.

New OCWM Resources Available

Many have seen the statistical information that 75% of all financial gifts from our Wisconsin churches to Our Church's Wider Mission (OCWM) remain in Wisconsin to support the services and ministries of the Wisconsin Conference. This support has a positive impact in multiple ways on the individual churches within our Conference.

We know of many of these. Providing assistance with pastoral transitions, equipping congregations in ways to improve their vitality, offering clergy care through individual mentoring and collegial support groups, providing lay leadership training through the Lay Academy, supporting of Youth Ministries, offering outdoor ministry programs through Pilgrim Center & Moon Beach, and guiding congregations through periods of conflict or change are but a few of the services and ministries that are made possible by our support of OCWM.

The difficult challenge often heard from Pastors and Lay Leaders is how to effectively create an understanding within their membership of the benefits their church receives through financial support of OCWM.

This challenge is being addressed by an OCWM Communication Committee and Conference staff working to create several educational resources. These resources have been developed to aid in communicating a better understanding of how our OCWM gifts are utilized and their impact on individual churches. We urge you to review and utilize the print and video resources on our Conference website.

It is hoped that you will find these helpful during this time of stewardship conversation, budget discussions or at anytime you choose to provide the important message of how we all benefit from our support of OCWM.

WHAT IS

THE "DIVISION OF THE MISSION OF THE CHURCH IN THE WORLD?"

The Division of the Mission of the Church in the World is one of three committees for the Northwest Association. Its name is long for "mission committee." First, we are a scholarship committee, providing funds for mission trips and work camps—like the ones to Back Bay and Pine Ridge.

Second, we promote the 5 for 5 fund-raisers from National—Our Church's Wider Mission, One Great Hour of Sharing, Neighbors in Need, Strengthen the Church, and the Christmas Fund. We are the go-to committee to ask the questions that your parishioners might have when you start your campaigns, such as, why are they important and how do we serve God through them? You are not alone with your computer or tablet in planning your 5 for 5 campaigns.

Third, we are a clearing house on mission—that means you can call us or email us when you are searching for the key piece needed to make the information you get from the internet work for your church's special mission project. We look for ways to make it easier for churches to network and see where another church's ideas fits onto their own or to find other partners when a project is too big for one church or community to take on alone. To this end we are planning an informal directory of those people in the local church who are passionate about mission. Look for committee member Karen Brzezinski's call.

Fourth, call or email us when you need help clarifying or shifting through the information on the internet about difficult issues like immigration—like what's the difference between a refugee and an immigrant, who are "dreamers?" We're also a sounding board for figuring out the next step to take that fits your congregation. For instance, we've been talking to churches that have had conversations about "Welcoming Immigrants." These NW churches have approached the subject in several ways—one is having a dinner with table discussions each lead by a facilitator who has a set of commonly asked questions, another is having art educators make basic designs for posters about stereotypes and misconceptions about immigration with the congregation getting together and decorating them (we will be hearing more about such projects) and one has resettled a mother and her four children from Guatemala. In this edition of the NW WORD, members of River Falls will describe their experiences doing that.

STEWARDSHIP

I would like to thank those caring individuals who gave so much of themselves and their time, to once again build a float for the Homecoming Parade. It doesn't seem like much, but it gets Nekoosa UCC out into the spotlight and lets the community know we exist. That you can worship God and still be part of a community.

Thank you to Karen McLean, our Home Delivered Meals coordinator. I am sure she could use some more volunteers. It's only once every 6 or 8 weeks if I remember correctly. See Karen if you are interested.

Thank you to our Neighborhood Table Coordinators. Lynette Hilgers is our church's coordinator once or twice a year and Mark & Melani Johnson do it on a more regular basis.

Thank you to our ushers, the choir, choir director, Diaconate, the greeters, scripture readers and of course the sound person. Put all of these people together with Pastor Tim's words of wisdom and you get an awesome Sunday morning worship.

Thank you to the Women United who make lovely quilts, have great rummage sales, and a very merry Christmas coffee. Not to mention all the other projects these ladies participate in.

Thank you to the Women's Evening Group for delicious chicken dinners.

Thank you to the Sunday school teachers and Christian Education Committee who give our children an opportunity to learn about Jesus.

NAVIGATING MINISTRY WITH A CHANGING CHURCH

EXPLORE WAYS TO SERVE A CHURCH THAT CAN NO LONGER AFFORD YOU

Bi-Vocational Ministry Incubator April - November, 2018

Increasingly, congregations can no longer afford a full-time, fully-supported pastor. And pastors are needing to wrestle with tough questions about how to sustain themselves while being faithful to their sense of call. The Bi-vocational Ministry Incubator provides a safe space where pastors can dig deeper into these questions, hone skills for doing ministry in a different way, develop tools to guide a congregation into making a transition into a more shared model of ministry, and find the courage to explore options.

Monthly day-long gatherings over the course of 8 months will offer skill-building, peer support and coaching/mentoring. The program is offered inter-denominationally and designed for both ordained and licensed/commissioned pastors, for those who want to explore this option and for those who have already made the transition and want additional support and tools, for those who seek additional income and for those who seek part-time arrangements in order to juggle home and care-giving responsibilities. Offered by Sand Bur Consulting, LLC. For more information, contact linda@sandburconsulting.com. Registration is limited and deadline is March, 2018. More information.

Pulpit Supply October 2017

Churches should be fair and forthright in agreeing upon honorarium and travel expenses for persons they invite to provide pulpit supply. The Conference Division of Church and Ministry suggests a minimum of $125 plus mileage reimbursed at the IRS current rate; for 2017, that would be 53.5 cents per mile. Where a church has two points and two services, you should consider a minimum of $175 plus mileage.

Conference staff persons serve the local congregations in a variety of ways in the normal performance of their duties. Honoraria are not accepted, and travel costs are covered by the Conference travel budget. Except in emergencies, Conference staff cannot provide pulpit supply; however, the staff welcomes opportunities to preach for special occasions or to meet with members of the congregation.

Please note: Persons licensed to the NW Association and ordained pastors are authorized to administer the Sacraments.
