

“Our God Is Holding Us Together Now”

Words and Music by Jacob Nault

©2020 Jacob Nault. All rights reserved.

Please use with permission by emailing jacobnault1@gmail.com

V1:

It's been so long since we have been together in this place
Lifted voices up in praise, or greeted a smiling face
We are the same people still
But we are not the same
As what we know turns upside down
We trust in what remains:

CH

We are held in the sacred story of beloved community
Of laughter, tears and faithful work
To dream God's glorious dream
Yet even though we're far apart
Our faith tells us somehow
Our God is holding us together now

V2:

Learning how to be the church in new and different ways
Knowing that the love we share will give us strength today
To work for justice, love and hope, till all have what they need
Till what God wills comes to the world
For righteousness and peace

V3

We know we are held in Love until we meet once more
Cherished friends, or even those we haven't met before
We'll give thanks for all the saints who've shown the way of faith
And we'll share in new things to come as we trust God leads the way

CH